Base Camp Aurora - Upper Room

Are you interested in becoming a member of Colorado Community Church or would just like to learn more? This class is designed not only to answer your questions about CCC, but to prepare you for meaningful involvement in the many areas of ministry available.

What does being a member of CCC mean?

While we welcome anyone to attend CCC, we understand membership as your response declaring that you support the vision, mission and values of Colorado Community Church and intend to live as an active, serving, giving and receiving participant in this church family.

What is required to become a member of CCC?

To become a member of CCC, we ask the following three criteria be met or completed: 1) You attend and complete our Discover CCC class; 2) You have made a personal response to the gospel by placing your faith in Jesus Christ; 3) You have agreed to fulfill our New Member Covenant which includes our membership vows and committing to regularly serve somewhere in the church or the overall body of Christ.

What if I find after taking the class I am not ready for membership?

We understand that not everyone who attends this class will be ready for membership. Still come if you're interested to find out more about CCC as you seek to know if this is God's place for you. There will be many opportunities in the future for you to join.

When you attend, please know a light supper is provided for you. Childcare is available by advance reservation only.
